THE OPPORTUNITY - Lighting Design Student Internship

Are you a student focusing on Lighting Design? Do you want a real world summer job opportunity where you can experience the field of lighting design within a collaborative multidisciplinary environment? Did you know that Denver has 300 days of sunshine annually?

RNL's Denver office is currently seeking a temporary lighting design student for an internship to work with our award winning Lighting Design group. Project types consist of commercial, higher education, residential, civic and hospitality projects on the local, national and international scale. The preferred candidate will be a self-starter that enjoys working collaboratively alongside other creative minds. Students pursuing a four year degree in Architectural Engineering or Design with a focus on Illumination, or equivalent work history, are encouraged to apply. This is a part-time, temporary position lasting March through August, 2017.

ABOUT US
